Simplify the research process—

PTA provides a key to the enormous number of abbreviations for magazines, journals, and news found in commonly-used abstracting and indexing services. Vol. 1, Abbreviation, enables quick deciphering of puzzling abbreviations providing the user with the complete title. Vol. 2, By Title, performs the useful function of locating, in place, all of the variant abbreviations used for a specific periodical.

Expanded coverage

This new edition increases in international scope with the inclusion of many CODEN entries and the addition of numerous Australian periodicals. Medical and scientific sections have been enlarged and human and social science abbreviations updated and expanded.

Periodic supplements keep you current

New Periodical Title Abbreviations contain many thousands of abbreviations which are uncovered between editions. The two inter-edition supplements provide two alphabetical tabulations: by abbreviations and by titles.
